ANNOUNCEMENTS

BROADWAY THEATER.

Brewster's Millions. The production of Brewster's Millions at the Broadway theater this evening is an event of more than passing interest, marking as it does the introduction into the strictly dramatic field of Frederic Thompson, the creator and builder of New York's great Hippodrome, with its wonderful productions, and Luna Park, the stupendous and magnificent resort on Coney Island. The fame of Frederic Thompson has resounded from sea to sea because of what he has done and it has all been so well done that it stands as a monument to his eleverness and ability.

In selecting a dramatization of McCutcheon's fascinating story, Brewster's Millions, with which to enter the dramatic world, Mr. Thompson has found a vehicle worthy his endeavors and one which will sustain his reputation. Those who have read the book can appreciate it as a great play. The cast is an excellent one. The star part—that of Montgomery Brewster— The production of Brewster's Millions can appreciate it as a great play. The cast is an excellent one. The star part—that of Montgomery Brewster—is played by Robert Ober, one of the very best of the younger generation of American actors, well and favorably known throughout the country. The supporting company includes Emily Lytten, Albert Sachett, Joseph Wood-burn, Grace Arnold, W. S. Constantine, May Talbott, Nestor Lennon, James H. rison and twenty others.

The Prince Chap.

Edward Peple's beautiful play. The rince Chap, will be presented to local laygoers for the first time in this city the Broadway theater on Friday. 3d. A play more charming than Prince Chap has never been writ-Small wonder that it ran for a teh. Small wonder that it ran for a year in New York, another year in London, and an entire season in Australia. Nor is it surprising that of all the plays at his disposal, Mr. Charles Emerson Cook, who after ten years of the closest association with David Belasco, has chosen now to enter the field independently as a producing manager, should decide upon it as one of his first offerings.

Players in this most capable company of players are Helen and Beryl Pullman, Elvia Bates, Mabel Acker, Bert Walter, Allan Dinehart, Evelyn Ferguson and John Bryce.

WEDDING.

Stevens-Geer. On Tuesday, November 30, at 5.30 'clock at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Nelson Geer, in Lebanon, their J. Nelson Geer, in Lebanon, their daughter, Eunice Elsie, was united in marriage with Arthur John Stevens of Providence by Rev. Eugene B. Smith, pastor of the First Congregational church of Lebanon. The ceremony took place beneath a beautiful arch of evergreens entrined about while supports.

Miss Geneva Stark of Lebanon pre-sided at the plano. To the music of the bridal chorus from Lohengrin, the bridal party entered the church, Men-delssohn's wedding march from Mid-summer Night's Dream was played as the processional. The bride is highly esteemed by a wide circle of friends. In the Congregational church she has been an active worker, having been for some time organist and choir lead-er and prominent in all the life of the er and prominent in all the life of the church. She had many presents, all being valuable and useful. Mr. Stevens is in the automobile department of the state board of public roads, the department's office being in the Capitol, Providence.

Mr. Grump (a savage bachelor)—I don't see why a man should got married when a good parrot can be bought for $25. Miss Readywit—As usual we women are at a disadvantage. A grizzly bear can't be bought for many times that.—Boston Transcript.

He had managed to accumulate a lot of money by more or less questionable methods. "I should like to do something for the benefit of the town," he said. "Well," suggested the peor but otherwise honest citizen, "you might move out of it."—Chicago News. She dropped her glove,

He raised his lid,
And picked it up—
With "Oh, you kid."
"How dare you sir?"
"Excuse me, miss—
It's just like this—
I meant the glove."
—Chicago News.

Plans have been prepared for a large bathing establishment at St. Joachimsthal, where baths may be taken in the radio-active water from the mine. A small bathhouse is now in operation.

There is a belief prevalent among the natives of Asia Minor that the thicker the clothing worn at all sea-sons the year, the better it is for the human body, protecting it alike from the winter cold and the summer heat. In Caucasia it is not uncommon to see people wearing huge bearskin coats in the midst of summer, with the thermometer standing at 100 dea cance in a wenderfully good state of preservation. It is of the type known as dugouts, the material being the trunk of a black oak tree, about 12 feet long, rudely shaped and hollowed out.—London Standard.

FOETRY.

OMMISSIONED. "Do their errands; enter into the sacrifice with them; be a link yourse," in the Divine chain, and feel the joy and life of it."

What can I do for thee Beloved.
Whose feet so little while ago
Trod the same wayside dust with miss.
And now up paths I do not know
Speed, without sound or sign?

I used to do so many things; Love thee and chide thre and caress. Brush little straws from off thy way. Tempering with my poor tenderness. The heat of the short day. Not much, but very sweet to give;
And it is grief of griefs to bear,
That all these ministries are e'er;
And thou, so happy, Love, elsewhere,
Dost need me nevermore.

A smile upon thy face. And when the day's work et is with day, And star-eyed evening stealing in Waves her cool hand to flying noon, And restless, surging thoughts be-

Like and bells out of tune, I'll pray: "Dear Lord, to whose great No bound nor limit-line is set.

Give to my darling, I implore,
Some new sweet joy not tasted yet.

For I can give no more.

And with the words my thoughts shall With following feet the heavenly stair
Up which thy steps so lately sped—
And seeing thee so happy there,
Come back half-comforted,
—Susan Coolidge.

VIEWS AND VARIETIES Clever Sayings

"Emerson your little brother has a tooth." "Indeed!" responded the Bos-ton youngster, politely. "And is it an incisor or a bicuspid?"—Kansas City Journal.

Judge (to boy on witness stand)-Well, my little man, do you know what an oath is? Boy—Yes, sir; I was your golf caddle for a whole week last suma local lawyer got so excited over the discovery of the north pole that he closed up a will case he'd been nursing for the last fourteen years."—Louisville Courier-Journal.

"Til say this for Alfred," remarked the boy's father, "he's patriotic and is doing all he can to reduce the govern-ment's postal deficit. Ever since he went away to school he has written to me about four times a week asking for money."—Chicago Tribune.

There has just been unearthed from the River Annan, near Lockerbie, a relic of early Britain in the shape of

Col. Alfred A. Winslow reports that work was begun August 21 on the first railway locomotive ever built in Chill, at the works of the Sociedad de Maestranzas y Galvauizacion, in Valparaizo. It is understood that these locomotives are to cost the Chilean government 20 per cent, more than it would cost one to import similar locomotives, but it is in line with a policy to encourage the industrial development of the country. It is the beginning of a new era for Chill.
